GERMAN SOCIALISTS MEET.

Society Will Take Action on Kaiser's Recent Speeches.

Magdeburg, Sept. 19.—The annual congress of the German Social Democratic party, which was formally opened last night, began its work this morning. Herr Bebel, the German Socialist leader, was present, but Paul Singer, the president of the congress for many years, was absent owing to illness. There was one prominent suffragette, Clara Zetkin, in attendance. Altogether there were 400 delegates present, which is a greater number than has been in attendance since the repeal of the Socialist law twenty years ago.

Herr Dietz, a deputy to the Reichstag from Stuttgart, and Editor Krieger, of this city were elected chairmen. Addresses were then delivered by several foreign delegates. Kier Hardie, the American delegate Bahltch, and former Private Secretary Lassalles were warmly welcomed.

The chief question to be debated by the congress is the conduct of the Baden delegates in voting for the budget in the Reichstag against the policy of the North German Socialists. Other questions to be discussed are Prussian electoral reform, the relations of Social Democrats and trades unions, and the Kaiser's recent speeches.

SLAYER IDENTIFIED BY GIRL

Daughter of C. D. Hiller Points Out William Jones as Intruder.

Victim Shot After Terrific Struggle Which Wife and Daughters Are Forced to Witness.

Chicago, Sept. 19.—William Jones, a negro, was arrested on suspicion of slaying Clarence D. Hiller, chief clerk of the Rock Island freight department, in his home, 1873 West 10th street, early today.

He was identified by the dead man's daughter, Clarice, this afternoon as her father's murderer. A wound in his hand was declared by the police to furnish further proof against him.

Early this morning Hiller leaped from his bed as he heard screams from the bedroom of his daughter, Clarice, eighteen years old. Taking a revolver from a drawer and followed by his wife, he rushed toward the rear of the house. In the hallway he encountered the intruder. The latter saw Hiller at the same moment and before Hiller could raise his gun the burglar leaped at him. A fierce struggle followed, both men seeking to shoot the other. Terrified, Mrs. Hiller sought to aid her husband and was joined by Clarice and Florence Hiller, all three of whom were screaming.

The robber during the struggle forced the battle toward the head of the stairway. Mrs. Hiller screamed to her husband to look out. It was too late, and the next moment the negro and Hiller, each holding on to the other with a grip of death, rolled down the stairway to the bottom. The mother and daughter watched the struggle from above.

The powerful negro was too much for Hiller. The latter weakened and finally his hold was broken. The negro sprang to his feet and drew his revolver. Hiller fell dead at the foot of the stairway. The next moment the murderer leaped through an open window to the front lawn and escaped.

SCHOOL ROW IS ENDED.

Miss Boone Accepts Transfer from Hyattsville to Riverdale.

Hyattsville, Sept. 19.—The peace and quiet of Hyattsville's population is temporarily preserved as the result of the action of Miss Pearl L. Boone in accepting the decision of the board of school commissioners of Prince George County, transferring her from the Hyattsville to the Riverdale school.

In anticipation of possible trouble at the local school this morning, quite a gathering assembled, and when Miss Boone failed to appear to take her place as teacher there was deep disappointment.

Miss Snyder, appointed by the commissioners to take Miss Boone's place, reported for duty and took charge of the primary class.

Miss Boone, wisely accepting the ultimatum of the legally constituted authorities, reported at the Riverdale school and went to work. Miss Boone's contention is that she has never been legally notified of her transfer, and for this reason has determined to report to the principal of the Hyattsville school. Just what made her change her mind is not known, but it is reported that she received what she regarded as proper papers from the county school authorities this morning.

FORCED INTO BANKRUPTCY.

Frank F. Graham Cannot Pay the Judgment of the Government.

Baltimore, Md., Sept. 19.—Frank F. Graham, a stone cutter of this city, today applied in the United States court for the benefit of the bankruptcy laws. His liabilities are given as $60,886, while his assets are $1,429.

The reason for bankruptcy is the judgment for $50,000 obtained against Mr. Graham by the government for failure to carry out a contract in furnishing stone for the new National Museum in Washington. The section that Graham was supposed to build was the one in which were to have been housed the Roosevelt African trophies.

The specific charge of the government was that Graham quit the job some time before it was completed, and that the government had to take the work of construction in hand and have the building finished. Graham declared that he could not avoid the lapse in the work, as those who had contracted to supply him with the necessary stone violated their contract.

BURTON MAY HEAD PRINCETON

Rumor Has It That Senator Will Be Offered Wilson's Place.

New York, Sept. 19.—Senator Theodore E. Burton, of Ohio, may receive an offer from the trustees of Princeton University to succeed Woodrow Wilson, president of that institution, who has just been nominated by the Democrats for governor of New Jersey. This report was current today, but the source is not traceable.

EX-ATTACHE A SWINDLER.

Former Mexican Diplomat Arrested with American Pal.

Berlin, Sept. 19.—The Mexican who, with an American named Becker, swindled a jeweler out of $55,000 worth of jewelry about a week ago, has been identified as Emilio Carduy, who was formerly an attaché of the Mexican Legation at Washington. He was dismissed from the legation for embezzlement, after he went to Paris and became a waiter in a cafe. Here he made the acquaintance of Emilio Becker, of Chicago, or San Francisco, as is now stated. The jeweler whom they swindled was Koch, of Frankfurt.

The pair had previously committed a burglary, with the proceeds of which they went to Munich, where they were arrested.

EXPLOSION KILLS FIVE.

Chicago, Sept. 19.—Five persons were killed by an explosion of gasoline today in the home of Joseph Belica, 3811 West Sixty-fourth street. Three, a mother and two children, died before medical aid could be summoned, and two other children died on the way to St. Bernard's Hospital. The victims of the explosion were Mrs. Anna Belica, thirty years old; Stephen Belica, eight years; Joseph Belica, five months; Anna Belica, three years, and Francis Belica, five years.

Joseph Belica, who is a night watchman for the Grand Trunk Railway, had returned from his night's work and Mrs. Belica was preparing breakfast for him. She was filling the tank of the gasoline stove when there was a deafening explosion. The four children were with their mother in the kitchen at the time, while Mr. Belica was in the front of the cottage. He was the only one to escape without injury.

2,500 Yards New Fall

All-Wool Suitings

73c

ALL 56 INCHES WIDE.

Worth $1.39, $1.50, $1.69,

$1.75 a Yard.

This was an extraordinary purchase. Right here at Lansburgh & Bro. very beginning of the fall season, to be able to offer such a remarkable bargain in something unheard of before. We picked up this lot of suitings from a large New York manufacturer at from one-half to two-thirds of their regular values. These come in all the newest fall weaves, such as herringbone, stripes, chevrons, diagonals, stripes, chevrons, ribbeds, and a host of other new weaves. The range of colors is very wide, and includes navy, marine and electric blue, smoke, stone and slate gray, forest and hunter's green, fawn, raspberry, catwalk and tan, and many blacks. This is an unusual opportunity, and an early call is advised. Remember, new fall all-wool suitings, worth up to $1.75 a yard, today at the very special price of 73c.

ROOSEVELT'S PLANS

REMAIN UNCHANGED

who is on to the whole situation and who can advise him as to who's who among the delegates. Collins is a man of experience, who has seen both sides of the State game.

The colonel went on to explain that he had noticed some of the estimates of strength given out by William Barnes, Jr., and that he observed that in a good many instances Barnes had credited Roosevelt with a lot more strength than Roosevelt really possesses, and the colonel murmured that Mr. Barnes can't fool him in that way, he'll be on the job himself when it comes to the question of sounding the reserve.

Although Col. Roosevelt did not say so to-night, there is not much doubt expressed here that the President is mightily pleased with the way the colonel has gone after the bosses in New York State. Just where Vice President Sherman will set off is another matter, but the colonel is not anxious as to the welfare of Sherman or anyone affiliated with him in politics.

Did Not Seek Meeting.

Col. Roosevelt admitted this trip to New Haven had been hatched rapidly. He did not seek the meeting with Mr. Taft, as it had been reported in some of the newspapers. Mr. Griscorn and Mr. Bannard were instrumental in bringing it about.

Originally the conference had been planned for New York, when it was supposed that the President would stop on his way to Cincinnati. That was impossible, and so the colonel agreed willingly to Griscorn's request to go to New Haven.

Early this morning Carl Dodge, formerly Mr. Griscorn's private secretary, called at Sagamore Hill for Col. Roosevelt. A motor boat lay at the dock and the colonel came right down. They had intended to go to Black Rock, but rough weather and a fussy water caused them to put in at Stamford, Conn., and hire an automobile. They picked up Griscorn at Bridgeport and motored on to New Haven.

Confer at Luncheon.

Col. Roosevelt spent altogether about an hour and a half with the President. They were alone not more than twenty minutes. At the luncheon attended by Mr. Griscorn, Mr. Bannard, President Hadley, of Yale, and Secretary Norton, the discussion was open, but alone the President and Mr. Roosevelt touched on a few subjects that could not be aired in the open.

When the Presidential train pulled out of New Haven the colonel, Mr. Griscorn, and Mr. Bannard took an automobile ride around the town, and then Mr. Roosevelt was about to leave for New York. Mr. Roosevelt was whizzed over to the Pennsylvania station, and shot through the new tube under the East River for the first time. He liked the ride immensely. He rode to Oyster Bay in the smoking car.

To-morrow the colonel will do a bit of contributing editing at the Outlook office. He expects to see more politicians who will bear tidings to him from up State. He hopes to spend a day at Saratoga before the convention, but does not know whether he can make it or not.

REGRETS LORIMER INCIDENT.

Hamilton Club Member Talks of Outcome of Disagreeable Episode.

New York, Sept. 19.—The Hamilton Club of Chicago wishes very much that Col. Roosevelt had not forced the Lorimer issue, according to William B. Austin, vice president of the club, who was at the Waldorf to-day. Still, the club will accept the resignation of Senator Lorimer in Mr. Austin's belief.

Mr. Austin said: "The resignation committee is up for a meeting for to-morrow night, which I am hurrying back to. The general opinion is that it will be accepted. We feel that Col. Roosevelt was right, possibly, but he got at what he wanted to do in the wrong way. He is used to too much red fire. The same object could have been done in a quiet, orderly way, without dragging the club into so much notoriety."

"Of course, we regret the incident keenly. The man at whom Roosevelt's remarks were aimed was to have been our guest, and to have sat on the same platform with the colonel, and our having to withdraw the invitation—for Roosevelt was the guest of honor, and had a right to say whom he did not want at the feast—put us in bad."

"However, the club is composed of leveled-headed men, and the effect upon it will be small. The fact is we have gained, rather than lost, in spite of an attempt that has been made to make it appear that the incident has disintegrated the club. Lorimer has a few friends in the club, but I doubt very much whether any member of the club would uphold the Senator in his methods."

Nominated for Congress.

Montclair, N. J., Sept. 19.—E. W. Townsend of Montclair, was unanimously nominated for Congress by the Democrats of the Seventh district of New Jersey in convention here to-night.

COLONEL ASKS TAFT FOR AID

said Mr. Bannard, after coming from the Roosevelt-Taft conference, "is not to nominate a Presidential candidate for the party."

President Taft's own attitude toward an endorsement by the New York State convention for 1912 is that it is a bad practice to inject into the middle of an administration a political factor of this character. He believes in going ahead and being President for four years, and then his friends and the party are satisfied with his administration he will be nominated; if not, he will be content to retire.

Ohio is the only State that has in its convention endorsed Taft for 1912, and President Taft's attitude toward the action of the Ohio Republicans is entirely consistent with the attitude which he has assumed now toward the New York State convention. The President, so it was learned to-day, sent a telegram to the Republican leaders in Ohio deprecating the action of the convention in this regard.
